

USER GUIDE

1. Enter the following URL <https://github.com/reggie19500722/LivUniCEBeginnersItalian>. This should take you to the main page of the site (see below). On this page there is a ReadMe file containing information about the course, this guide and links to a number of folders.

2. Each folder contains links to a variety of files. The folders are:

- Italy – The Country and Its People: This folder contains articles on the Italian People and the regions of Italy. Some of the articles will be in Italian but with a bit of guesswork you should be able to understand most of what is being said.
- Lesson Handouts - Copies of the handouts will be put on the site shortly after each lesson. For ease of use each week has its own folder and, within these, you can find the handouts used in the lesson.
- Useful Links – I have provided information and given the link(s) to various websites.
- Grammar – (not yet started) As various points of Grammar are raised the information will be entered on the site when the point has been covered completely.
- General Interest – Articles on all things Italy for you to read. Nearly all are in Italian but don't be put off – you'd be surprised at what you can understand!

Files can be download and printed at home or in work if you wish.

Please remember the above is only an image so what you see on this page may differ from what you see on the screen.

Can I ask you all to contribute to this site by providing me information about sites you have found or articles you may think are of interest to the group.

Thanks.
